THE TRANSMISSION OF THE PYRAMID TEXTS INTO THE MIDDLE KINGDOM: PHILOLOGICAL ASPECTS OF A CONTINUOUS TRADITION IN EGYPTIAN MORTUARY LITERATURE

Antonio J. Morales

A DISSERTATION

in

Near Eastern Languages & Civilizations

Presented to the Faculties of the University of Pennsylvania

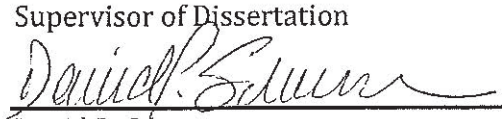

in

Partial Fulfillment of the Requirements for the

Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

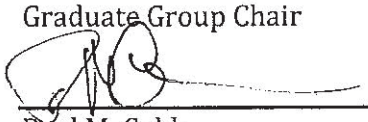

2013

Supervisor of Dissertation

David P. Silverman
Eckley Brinton Cox, Jr. Professor of Egyptology, Near Eastern Languages & Civilizations

Graduate Group Chair

Paul M. Cobb
Professor, Near Eastern Languages & Civilizations

Dissertation Committee:
James P. Allen, Wilbour Professor of Egyptology and Ancient Western Asian Studies
Harold M. Hays, Associate Professor, Leiden University Institute for Area Studies
Joseph W. Wegner, Associate Professor, Near Eastern Languages & Civilizations

UMI Number: 3565179

All rights reserved

INFORMATION TO ALL USERS
The quality of this reproduction is dependent upon the quality of the copy submitted.

In the unlikely event that the author did not send a complete manuscript and there are missing pages, these will be noted. Also, if material had to be removed, a note will indicate the deletion.

UMI 3565179

Published by ProQuest LLC (2013). Copyright in the Dissertation held by the Author.

Microform Edition © ProQuest LLC.
All rights reserved. This work is protected against unauthorized copying under Title 17, United States Code

ProQuest LLC.
789 East Eisenhower Parkway
P.O. Box 1346
Ann Arbor, MI 48106 - 1346

THE TRANSMISSION OF THE PYRAMID TEXTS INTO THE MIDDLE KINGDOM:
PHILOLOGICAL ASPECTS OF A CONTINUOUS TRADITION
IN EGYPTIAN MORTUARY LITERATURE

COPYRIGHT © 2013

by Antonio J. Morales

This work is licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution-
NonCommercial-ShareAlike 3.0
License

To view a copy of this license, visit

http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-ny-sa/2.0/

A mis padres,
Mercedes Rondán Román y Antonio Morales Serrano†

Nos esse quasi nanos, gigantium humeris insidentes,
ut possimus plura eis et remotiora videre,
non utique proprii visus acumine, aut eminentia corporis,
sed quia in altum subvenimur et extollimur magnitudine gigantea

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Anyone who attempts to write a dissertation owes an inexpressible debt not only to his dissertation committee but also to his former and current teachers, to his colleagues in the program and beyond, and to the authors of countless books and papers. I would like to acknowledge a profound debt to those who belong in these categories and have been a tremendous help for me over the past four years of research. Foremost, I would like to thank my advisor at the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. David Silverman, whose support for this project and my education has been unfailing. His insightful initial questions about the Pyramid and Coffin Texts shaped my research, and his interest on the reasons behind ancient textual criticism and editing has served a model for me. I sincerely thank him not only for his comments and ideas but also for improving my writing and supporting my dissertation research abroad. I thank Dr. James Allen, who has been a constant source of guidance and assistance regarding the details of the texts. His important contributions to the study of the Pyramid Texts are too many to list, and they have had an impact on my work. Dr. Harold Hays's vast knowledge of the corpus has informed this study in many ways and to him I owe a tremendous debt. I appreciate his guidance, his model of superlative scholarship, and his support for me to work at the De Buck Archives in Leiden University. I would also like to thank Dr. Josef Wegner, who helped me to address issues of archaeological context, regional agendas and multiplicity of textual programs during the First Intermediate Period and the Middle Kingdom. I must also thank him and Dr. Silverman for granting me the opportunity to get fieldwork experience during several seasons at Abydos and Saqqara. I thank them all, as well as other readers of my dissertation drafts for their thorough reading and thoughtful comments and corrections: Dr. Jochem Kahl (Berlin), Dr. Mark Smith (Oxford) and Dr. Wolfram Grajetzki (London).

Additional members of the faculty in the Department of Near Eastern Languages and Civilizations at Penn deserve my gratitude. I would like to thank Dr. Richard Zettler and Dr. Paul Cobb, former and current graduate student chairs, both of whom helped me with many of the organizational, logistical and more pecuniary matters of my research project. Special thanks go to Dr. Cobb for helping me in difficult times and always offering me a great input on behalf of the department and to Dr. Ralph Rosen (Dean, School of Arts and Sciences) for his support, specially in my last semester at Penn. I also wish to acknowledge the input of Dr. Jennifer Houser-Wegner, who taught me Demotic and History of Ptolemaic Egypt and has always been supportive to my work with the museum collection. Also I express my gratitude to Dr. Robert Ritner, who showed me during my year with him as assistant that his academic excellence is without equal, not only in research but also in teaching. And finally, the NELC departmental administrators, Linda Greene, Peggy Guinan, and Diane Moderski, without whom I could not have completed graduate school. Special thanks go to Linda Greene: she has the amazing ability to always provide the most efficient information, the best shortcut for solving problems, and the most generous assistance. The three of them always provided both good humor and quick solutions, and deserve to come to Torremolinos, indeed!

The origin of this dissertation dates back to my years as an undergraduate at the University of Seville and my M.Phil. studies at the University of Birmingham. I have great personal and intellectual debt to Dr. José Miguel Serrano (Ancient History, Seville), who introduced me to the study of ancient Egyptian religion, language and literature; he was my mentor "at home," and his wise guidance, friendship and support have always been invaluable to me. I would also like to express my gratitude to the late Dr. Francisco Presedo, who unveiled to me and other students the wonders of the Egyptian culture in Graeco-Roman times. It was at the library of the Ancient History Department in Seville that I discovered my love of ancient Egypt; on account of Henry George Fischer's Ancient Egyptian Hieroglyphs: a Beginner's Guide to Writing Hieroglyphs, I decided to master hieroglyphs and read ancient Egyptian literature. Also, I wish to express my gratitude to Dr. José Manuel Galán (CSIC, Madrid), whose passion for Egyptology and excellent scholarship inspired me to pursue graduate studies in the US. As my first mudīr, he –and his team, Djehuty Project– offered me the opportunity to participate in my first archaeological mission in Egypt, at Dra Abu el-Naga. To my advisor at the University of Birmingham, Dr. Anthony Leahy, I also owe much: his guidance, constant support, and deep understanding of ancient Egyptian history and religion were stimulating for my education and future decisions to pursue a Ph.D.

The research for this dissertation was supported by several grants and fellowships for which I am filled with gratitude: in Philadelphia, the University of Pennsylvania–School of Arts and Sciences (William Penn Fellowship), the Louis J. Kolb Foundation (Junior Kolb Fellowship) the NELC Department (Benjamin Franklin Funds and the J.R. Koury Fellowship) provided me financial aid for my PhD studies; in Berlin, the Freie Universität Berlin Forschungstipendium and the hospitality of Dr. Jürgen Osing and Dr. Jochem Kahl contributed to my studies on mortuary texts and initiation into the field of textual criticism and stemmatics; in Oxford, the University of Oxford–Faculty of Oriental Studies (The Queen Elizabeth Scholarship), St. Cross College and the generosity of Dr. Mark Smith in discussing the major questions of my dissertation provided a solid grounding for approaching the religious and social meaning of the phenomenon of transmission. I wish to thank also Dr. John Baines and Dr. Elizabeth Frood for their generosity in providing ideas and support while at Oxford, and Dr. Cynthia Sheikholeslami for her friendship and collaborative work; in London, the Warburg Institute–University of London (The Henri Frankfort Fellowship in Cultural and Intellectual History), its director, Dr. Peter Mack, and manager, Ms. Anita Pollard, for their support in my study of ritual theory and performance. In addition, several short grants and a prize awarded by the School of Arts and Sciences and the Office of the Provost at the University of Pennsylvania allowed me to conduct research at Leiden University for several summers.

I wish to call particular attention to the professional assistance I have received from librarians, archivists, and curators. At the Ägyptische Museum und Papyrussammlung (Altes/Neues Museum) in Berlin, curator Dr. Klaus Finneiser assisted me in the examination of several Middle Kingdom coffins and sarcophagi from their collection. At the Cairo Museum, thanks are due to its director Dr. El Awady and curator Dr. Yasmin El Shazly, for providing me permission to study and examine several Middle Kingdom objects with Pyramid Texts. At the Griffith Institute in Oxford University, Dr. Jaromir Malek, Dr. Diane Magee, and Ms. Alison Hobby helped me with my examination of manuscripts, papers and photos from the collections of Jaroslav Černý, Alan Gardiner, and Battiscombe Gunn; at the Sackler Library, the assistant librarian for Egyptology and Ancient Near Eastern Studies, Mrs. Diane Bergman; and at the Pitt Rivers Museum at Oxford, curator Ms. Elin Bornemann, for providing me access and information to several objects from the collection. At the Rijksmuseum van Oudheden in Leiden–Department of Egyptology, curator Dr. Maarten Raven offered me information and photo materials for the stela of Amenemhatseneb. I would like to thank also Dr. Harold Hays, Dr. Olaf Kaper and Dr. René van Walsem at Leiden University (Middle Eastern Studies) for permission to look at the De Buck Archives and work with Professor Adriaan de Buck's notes and photos. For his help with my work with Professor Henri Frankfort's notes and photos, I would also like to thank the archival assistant at the University of London–Warburg Institute, Dr. Eckart Marchand. At the Department of Egyptian Art in the Metropolitan Museum of New York, I wish to express my gratitude to curators Dr. Dorothea Arnold, Dr. Adela Oppenheim, Dr. Marsha Hill, Dr. Janice Kamrin, and Dr. Morena Stefanova for responding to my request for information and photos of four Late Middle Kingdom Theban coffins, as well as to the assistant curator Isabel Stünkel for providing me with images and details of a coffin from Meir and Dr. Kei Yamamoto for updates on the collection. In the Department of Ancient Art at the National Museum in Warsaw, I want to thank the Senior Keeper Dr. Monika Doliñska, who provided me with descriptions and photos of four Middle Kingdom coffins as well as details of the late Dr. Elizbieta Dabrowska-Smektala's dissertation on Middle Kingdom coffins from the Varsovian collection. Finally, in researching this dissertation, I also used the resources of the University of Pennsylvania Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology Library and Archives, as well as the Van Pelt Library. First, I would like to thank Dr. David Silverman for providing me access to his notes and drawings of Pepi-Ima's texts. I also owe my gratitude to the staff of the Museum Library, its director Dr. John Weeks, as well as to Ms. Anita Fahringer and Ms. Sheryl Tisdale; to the Museum Archivist, Mr. Alessandro Pezzati; to the Museum Director Secretary, Ms. Margaret Spencer; and to the Van Pelt Librarian Mr. Mark Lewis. At the Museum Egyptian Section storage I also received the help of Jean Walker.

In addition, very special thanks are due to the colleagues that made available for me unpublished materials even when my dissertation was sšt3 pw ꜥ3 n m33 n ptr: Dr. James Allen (Pyramid Texts computer spreadsheets and Lisht database lists), Dr. Harold Hays (Pyramid Texts data-tables); Mr. John Thompson (who offered me information about his investigations on the representation of rituals and performers in the Old Kingdom elite tombs); the director of the Mission Archéologique Française de Saqqara, Dr. Phillippe Collombert, and Dr. Bernard Mathieu (unpublished textual reconstruction of the W-wall of Ankhesenpepi II); Dr. Catherine Berger-el Naggar and Dr. Marie-Noelle Fraisse (BIFAO manuscript of Behenu's texts); and Dr. Audran Labrousse (manuscript of his publication in OLA 214).

I have lived in various places while working on this dissertation, and many individuals offered me help along the way. I have benefited greatly from their ideas and encouragment: in Baltimore, Dr. Hans Goedicke; in Basel, Dr. Susanne Bickel and Dr. Antonio Loprieno; in Berlin, Dr. Nicole Alexanian, Ms. Angela Böhme, Dr. Frank Feder, Dr. Ingelore Hafemann, Dr. Alexandra von Lieven, Dr. Angelika Lohwasser, Dr. Rania Merzeban, Dr. Jan Moje, Dr. Ludwig Morenz, Dr. Jurgen Osing, Dr. Stephan Seidlmayer, and Dr. Doris Topmann; in Birmingham, Dr. Lisa Leahy; in Boston, Dr. Denise Doxey and Dr. Peter der Manuelian; in Chicago, Dr. Janet Johnson, Dr. Raymond Johnson, and Dr. Robert Ritner; in Heidelberg, Dr. Jan Assmann, Dr. Daniela Luft, Dr. Andreas Pries, and Dr. Joachim Quack; in London, Dr. Richard Bussmann, Dr. Richard Parkinson, Dr. Stephen Quirke, Dr. John Tait, and Dr. Aloisie de Trafford; in Leiden, Dr. Sasha Verma; in Madrid, Dr. Barbara Boeck, Dr. Andrés Diego, Dr. Lucía Díaz-Iglesias, Dr. Ignaci Márquez Rowe, and Dr. Manuel Molina; in Mainz, Dr. Ursula Verhoeven; in New York, Dr. Matthew Adams, Dr. Ellen Morris, and Dr. David O'Connor; in Oxford, Dr. John Baines, Ms. Elin Bornemann, Dr. Jacob Dahl, Dr. Elizabeth Frood, Dr. Diane Magee, Dr. Mark Smith, and Dr. Alice Stevenson; in Philadelphia, Dr. Paul Delnero, Dr. Barry Eichler, Dr. Philip Jones, Dr. Fumi Karahashi, Dr. Simon Martin, Dr. James Mathieu, Dr. Stephen Phillips, Dr. Holly Pittman, and Dr. Stephen Tinney; in Prague, Dr. Miroslav Barta, Ms. Petra Marikova, and Dr. Jana Mynarova; in Providence, Dr. Ramadan Hussein; in Tübingen, Dr. Wolfgang Schenkel; in Vienna, Dr. Roman Gundacker. I am deeply grateful to the support and company of the house staff at the Penn-Yale-IFA dig house, the Penn Saqqara Expedition, and the Djehuty Project staff, where I found really good friends: to the inspectors and staff (including Mish-Mish), with whom I worked during our seasons at Abydos, Dra Abu el-Naga, El-Amra, and Saqqara, shukran li-musā'adatikum wa-muṣādaqatikum!

I would also like to thank to my fellow graduate students at Penn. There is no adequate way to thank their hospitality, friendship and support in academic and personal matters, especially Rachel Aronin, Kevin Cahail, Ari Hagler, Allison Hedges, Jane Hill, Maxime Huang, Beth Ann Judas, Kate Liszka, Melinda Nelson-Hurst, Nicholas Picardo, Josh Roberson, Rachel Rodabaugh, Charlotte Rose, Elias Saba, John Thompson, Leslie Warden and the younger Egyptology fellows (very interesting students, Dr. Silverman). I have also been blessed with the support of other friends throughout this process: Anthony Álvarez, Asunción Aranda, Isaías

Arrayas, Nawguan Bahaa, Rut Ballesteros, Iván Barchín and family, Mirek Barta, Guido Bettoni, Francisco Bosch, Monica Botta, Alfonso Botta-López, Lauren Brown, Antonio Caballos, Antonio Cantalejo, Gustavo Carrera, José Antonio Castro, Margarita Conde, Margui Hays-Conde and family, Violaine Chauvet, Reyes Damigo, Lucía Díaz-Iglesias, Andrés Diego, Helena Domínguez, Fatmanil Döner, Sara Duque, Abraham Fernández, Eduardo Ferrer, José Manuel Galán, Félix García, Gudelia García, Leonardo García, Paco Pepe García, Álvaro Gómez, Daniel Gómez, Laura Gómez, Yan Axel Gómez, Elena de Gregorio, Begoña Gugel, Rene Guitart, Tobias Gutmann, Steve Harvey, John B Hedges, Isabel Hernández, Francisco Hidalgo, Víctor Hurtado, Ramadan Hussein, Shih-Wei Hsu, José Ildefonso Ruíz, Salima Ikram, Alejandro Jiménez, Angie Jiménez, Alexandra Kasseri, Kenichiro Kimura, Lingbing Kong, Bryan Kraemer, Maxime Kupreyev, Manuela Lehman, Mark Lewis, María Limón, Fernando López, María José López, Carolina López-Ruiz, Fernando Lozano, Rita Lucarelli, José Lull, Esther Menacho, Daniel Méndez, Laura Miralles, Miguel Ángel Molinero, Juan Carlos Moreno, Ludwig Morenz, Jana Mynarova, Ana Navajas, Toni Ñaco, Leire Olabarria, Isabel Olbés, Joan Oller, José Miguel Parra, Valeria Riedemann, Víctor Rivas, Oliva Rodríguez, Patricia Rojo, Carolyn Routledge, Elias Saba, Víctor Sánchez, Isaac Sastre, José Miguel Serrano, JJ Shirley, Álvaro Solano, Cristina Solano, Kasia Starczewska, Iria Suárez, Sofía Torallas, María Ángeles Utrero, Paula Veiga, Rodrigo Verano, Sasha Verma, Krisztian Vertes, Jordi Vidal, Richard de Witt, and Kei Yamamoto. I wish to thank also my students of Egipcio clásico and Mitos, rituales y prácticas mágicas en el Egipto faraónico at the University of Seville, who gave truth to the proverb that "teaching is learning twice;" and to the members of the ARCE-Pennsylvania chapter; their support in the final stages of my research was enthusiastic and comforting.

Above all, I would like to thank the people who gave the very best of themselves to help me, support me, protect me, and keep me positive in my adventures; in one way or another, I have been walking this path with them in my side: Margarita, mi hermana siempre; Fernando, José Miguel y Nacho, los irremplazables; Esther, for supporting my first steps to become an Egyptologist; Paco and Ken, for our exciting escapades in Birmingham; Carolina, for introducing me into the world of the muses and Alfonso's life; Allison, Beth, Jane, Kate, Melinda and Richard, my family in Philadelphia, who cared about me while away from home and (over)indulged me with continuous "celebrations of friendship"; Sara, porque sin ella, este trabajo y yo nunca hubiéramos llegado a ser lo que somos; Ludwig and his family, for so many fond moments (and football); Tobias, for his kindness, wit and diligence in meeting his friend's every need; and Isaac, simply my brother-in-arms in Oxford. I would also like to remember Stine Rossel, an extraordinary person who is no longer with us. Many of us really miss your enthusiasm, kindness, and humor, Fisqueline.

Sincere appreciation goes to colleagues and friends who have read and commented on portions of this work. Their input, corrections, and suggestions were always helpful. I wish to acknowledge such immeasurable assistance from Beth Ann Judas and Jane Hill. Special thanks go to my friend, editor and Penn colleague, Elias Saba, who made the language and style of this dissertation more readable, fluid and graceful by reading it several times (ooh!) ¡Gracias Elías!

Finally, the ones who are the hardest to thank, because their contributions in every stage of my life are impossible to separate from their support in this particular adventure, are my parents Mercedes and Antonio, and my brother Juan Pablo. They supported me as I wanted to venture into the field of Egyptology and graduate studies in the US, even if they knew we would miss each other every day. No one could receive more love than you have given to me, and thus I dedicate this work to you. Elisa Solano, my wonderful love, provided me endless support, love, and care in good and difficult times. She was extremely helpful during the ultimate struggles of my research, and sacrificed in order that I might succeed. Her whole family also deserves my gratitude for their deep affection and support. I am eternally grateful to you, Elisa.

I wish to make a tribute to my father, Antonio Morales Serrano, who did not live long enough to see this work finished. I will always be inspired by his strong spirit, deep sacrifice and profound love to our family and others: "May I feast with you on your offerings, may I eat with you of the provisions, and may you take account of me for it everyday" (stela New York MMA 13.182.3). Your spirit will always abide with me.

In writing this dissertation (also during my breaks from it), I have benefitted from the congenial and supportive work environment at three cafes in the world: Green Line Café (West Philly, Philadelphia), Pi-Café (Freie Universität, Berlin), and The Missing Bean (Lincoln College, Oxford). In addition, I want to thank my computer for its loyal dedication in a thousand moments: 01110100011010000110000101101110011010110111001100001101000010 10 Πολύφημος. Last but not least, thanks Moccha, the greatest elixir known to mankind!

In conclusion, during my dissertation years I have tried to follow the words that Diane Jonte-Pace dedicated not so long ago to the life and work of her colleague and famous ritualist, Catherine Bell: 1) don't be constrained by the present or the past; 2) look for large patterns and ask big questions; 3) transform the personal into the professional; and 4) find pleasure in creativity (D. Jonte-Pace, "Foreword: Notes on a Friendship", in C. Bell, Ritual Theory, Ritual Practice (Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2009), pp. vii-xi). I hope that, by writing this dissertation, I have been able to attain some of these virtues, which would have never happened without the knowledge and patience of the members of my dissertation committee, the support of my friends, teachers and colleagues, and the love of my family and my partner. Thanks to all.

rš.wj sḏd dpt.n=f

December 1, 2012
Philadelphia

ABSTRACT

THE TRANSMISSION OF THE PYRAMID TEXTS INTO THE MIDDLE KINGDOM:
PHILOLOGICAL ASPECTS OF A CONTINUOUS TRADITION
IN EGYPTIAN MORTUARY LITERATURE

Antonio J. Morales

David P. Silverman

This dissertation focuses on the dissemination and use of texts originally used in royal pyramids during the First Intermediate Period and the Middle Kingdom. As late as the reign of Unas (ca. 2375-2345 BCE), the prominent priesthood at Memphis undertook the task of fixing these recitations into writing so that they could be transferred onto the walls of the pyramids and thus benefit the deceased king. At the end of the Old Kingdom, however, these texts began appearing in the tombs and coffins of high-status officials and priests of the provinces, who soon integrated these time-honored texts into their ritual practices and mortuary monuments.

This dissertation addresses the literary and textual aspects of this process of transmission, focusing on the scribal mechanisms for adapting the royal texts of Memphis to the smaller venues of non-royal tombs and coffins, and the theological speculative movements that transformed the compositions in accordance with local beliefs and ritual practices. It also deals with the transmission of the series of Pyramid Texts of Nut by examining its textual variations (errors and differences) and genealogical relationships. In addition, it focuses on questions of social inequality, access to royal privileges and the transformation of Egyptian society in the third and second millennia BCE. The conclusions of my research demonstrate that the transmission of mortuary literature in the Old and Middle Kingdom operated as an uninterrupted cultural phenomenon that encompassed coexisting streams of transmission and two major bodies of compositions, Pyramid Texts and Coffin Texts. In addition, the study validates the degree of adaptability of the Pyramid Texts, a corpus whose heterogeneous characteristics allowed priests and scribes to adapt tradition to new settings by re-arranging texts, preparing new versions, and combining them with novel compositions.

This dissertation challenges Egyptology's monolithic understanding of the mortuary texts as a novel invention created in the interest of the crown, and instead pinpoints the origin of these collections in the private oral domain, identifies a wider range of uses for these texts in both royal and private contexts, and emphasizes the relationship of the multiplicity of textual programs with local ritual traditions.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

DEDICATION…… p. iii
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS…….. p. iv
ABSTRACT ……...…….... p. ix
TABLE OF CONTENTS……... p. xi
ABBREVIATIONS…….. p. xv
EXPLANATORY NOTES FOR CHAPTER FIGURES……. p. xxvi
LIST OF SOURCES……. p. xxvii
LIST OF TRANSMITTED PYRAMID TEXTS……... p. xxxi
LIST OF DIAGRAMS AND FIGURES…… p. xxxiii
MAP OF EGYPT……. p. xxxviii

INTRODUCTION……... p. 1

A. Aims of the present study……. p. 2
B. The study of Old and Middle Kingdom mortuary corpora……... p. 7
C. A history of the Pyramid Texts in the Old and Middle Kingdom…… p. 12
D. History of scholarship……... p. 14
E. Structure of the dissertation…….. p. 24
F. Focus and objectives……. p. 28
G. Data set..…….. p. 30
H. Methodology……. p. 34

CHAPTER ONE:
THE TRANSMISSION OF THE PYRAMID TEXTS INTO THE MIDDLE KINGDOM……... p. 40

A. Introduction……... p. 40
B. Ritual: from general to specific……. p. 43
1. The power of ritual language: speech acts…… p. 68
2. The syntax and meaning of ritual……. p. 86
a. The three-stage hypothesis…….. p. 94
1. First stage: construction of the symmetric structure…….. p. 95
2. Second stage: development of the symmetric structure……. p. 97
3. Third stage: a move away from the symmetric structure and outset of doctrinal structures…… p. 100
b. The streams of mortuary literature transmission…… p. 104
1. MLT.I…… p. 106
2. MLT.Ia…….. p. 106
3. MLT.Ib…….. p. 107
4. MLT.II……... p. 108
5. MLT.IIa……. p. 110
6. MLT.IIb……. p. 112
7. MLT.III…….. p. 114
8. MLT.IV…….. p. 115
3. The purpose and efficacy of ritual……... p. 122

4. Agency in ritual…… p. 127
C. Conclusion…… p. 132

CHAPTER TWO:
PYRAMID TEXTS REPERTOIRE IN THE FIRST INTERMEDIATE PERIOD AND MIDDLE KINGDOM I…… p. 136

A. Introduction…….. p. 136
B. Repertoire of Pyramid Texts transmitted into the Middle Kingdom (northern region)……... p. 143
1. Introductory remarks…… p. 143
2. The Northern Egypt Group (NEG): Kom el-Hisn, Qatta, Mendes, Abusir, Saqqara, Dahshur, Lisht, Riqqa, Harageh, Lahun, Hawara, and Sedment….. p. 144
a. Introduction……. p. 144
b. The Delta region: Kom el-Hisn, Qatta, and Mendes…….. p. 148
1. Kom el-Hisn……... p. 149
2. Qatta……... p. 158
3. Mendes……... p. 165
c. The group of Memphite cemeteries: Abusir, Saqqara, and Dahshur….. p. 172
1. Abusir……. p. 174
2. Saqqara……... p. 180
3. Dahshur…….. p. 237
d. The cemeteries of Herakleopolis and Lisht…… p. 256
1. Lisht…… p. 259
1.1. Appendix: The Lisht model coffins and the pyramidia……... p. 302
2. Riqqa……... p. 306
3. Harageh……... p. 309
4. Lahun…….. p. 313
5. Hawara…… p. 316
6. Sedment…….. p. 318
3. Summary……... p. 324
C. Conclusion…… p. 326

CHAPTER THREE:
PYRAMID TEXTS REPERTOIRE IN THE FIRST INTERMEDIATE PERIOD AND MIDDLE KINGDOM II…… p. 336

A. Introduction…….. p. 336
B. Repertoire of Pyramid Texts transmitted into the Middle Kingdom (middle and southern regions)……... p. 338
1. Introductory remarks…… p. 338
2. The Middle Egypt Group (MEG): Beni Hasan, Bersheh, Meir, Asyut, Qau el-Kebir, Naga ed-Der, Abydos, Hu, Dendera, Thebes, Tod…… p. 342
a. Introduction……. p. 342
b. The northern MEG (MEG:N): Beni Hasan, Bersheh, Meir, Asyut, and Qau el-Kebir……... p. 344

1. Beni Hasan……. p. 345
2. Bersheh…….. p. 368
3. Meir…… p. 439
4. Asyut…….. p. 482
5. Qau el-Kebir……... p. 504
c. The southern MEG (MEG:S): Naga ed-Der, Abydos, Hu, Dendera, Thebes, Tod……. p. 513
1. Naga ed-Der…… p. 516
2. Abydos……..... p. 522
3. Hu……... p. 534
4. Dendera……... p. 539
5. Thebes……. p. 549
6. Tod…….. p. 600
d. Conclusion……... p. 603
3. The Southern Egypt Group evidence (SEG): Elephantine……... p. 605
a. Introduction……. p. 605
b. The Qubet el-Hawa evidence…….. p. 605
c. Conclusion……... p. 612
4. Sources with unknown provenance…….. p. 613
a. Introduction……. p. 613
b. Evidence without provenance……. p. 614
c. Conclusion……... p. 628
5. Summary……... p. 631
C. Conclusion……..... p. 633

CHAPTER FOUR:
RECOVERING RITUAL TRADITIONS FROM THE PYRAMID TEXTS REPERTOIRE…… p. 636

A. Introduction……... p. 636
B. Ritual dialectics in the transmission of the Pyramid Texts……... p. 639
1. Introductory remarks……. p. 639
2. Principles of transmission of the Pyramid Texts…….. p. 641
a. The adaptation of the post-Old Kingdom Pyramid Texts……... p. 643
1. The layout adaptation: limited epigraphic areas…… p. 643
2. The textual adaptation: ancient textual criticism……... p. 651
b. The permanence of traditional patterns in the post-Old Kindgom Pyramid Texts……. p. 656
c. The textual programs in the First Intermediate Period and Middle Kingdom……. p. 662
1. Immutable programs: traditional sets of Pyramid Texts…… p. 664
2. Innovative programs: the mutability of tradition……... p. 675
d. The local influence and the question of the regionalisms……... p. 696
3. Concluding remarks…….. p. 703
C. The series of Pyramid Texts of Nut: Saqqara as primary source…..……. p. 705
1. Introductory remarks……. p. 705
2. Modern Textual Criticism and the Pyramid Texts…… p. 710

3. Textual analysis of the Pyramid Texts of Nut: phylogenetics…….. p. 717
a. Recension……..…….. p. 717
1. Sources……...…… p. 717
2. Collation... ....…… p. 735
b. Examination..…….. p. 736
1. Analysis of deviations: scribal errors, digressions, and differences... p. 736
2. Stemmata and transmission mapping……. p. 741
4. Brief history of the transmission of the Pyramid Texts of Nut……. p. 761
5. Ritual and theological aspects of the series of Pyramid Texts of Nut…….. p. 784
6. Concluding remarks…….. p. 802
D. Conclusion…… p. 805

CHAPTER FIVE:
IN RETROSPECT……... p. 809

From voice to script to monument……. p. 814
Mutable tradition or traditional mutability?…….. p. 824
Towards a poetics of performance……. p. 836

APPENDICES…… p. 849

APPENDIX 1: STREAM AFFILIATION OF THE SOURCES…….. p. 850
APPENDIX 2: TRADITIONAL TEXTUAL PROGRAMS……... p. 852
APPENDIX 3: INNOVATIVE TEXTUAL PROGRAMS……. p. 854
APPENDIX 4: COLLATION OF THE PYRAMID TEXTS OF NUT……...…… p. 868
APPENDIX 5: EXAMINATION OF THE PYRAMID TEXTS OF NUT…….. p. 924

BIBLIOGRAPHY…… p. 962

INDICES……... p. 1076
GENERAL INDEX…….. p. 1076
EGYPTIAN TERMS INDEX……. p. 1100

ABBREVIATIONS

Bibliographical abbreviations

| | |
|---|---|
| ÄA | Ägyptologische Abhanlungen, Wiesbaden |
| AÄA | Archiv für ägyptische Archäologie, Wien |
| ÄAT | Ägypten und Altes Testament, Wiesbaden |
| ABKK | Amtliche Berichte aus den Königlichen Kunstsammlungen, Berlin |
| ACF | Annuaire du Collège de France, Paris |
| ADAIK | Abhandlungen des Deutschen Archäologischen Instituts Kairo, Cairo |
| ÄF | Ägyptologische Forschungen, Glückstadt/Hamburg/New York |
| AG | E. Edel, Altägyptische Grammatik I-II (Roma: Pontificium Institutum Biblicum, 1955), AnOr 34 and 39. |
| AH | Aegyptiaca Helvetica, Basel |
| AJA | American Journal of Archaeology, Baltimore/New Haven |
| AJSL | American Journal of Semitic Languages and Literatures, Chicago |
| ÄK | Ägyptologie und Kulturwissenschaft, München |
| AKM | Abhandlungen für die Kunde des Morgenlandes, Berlin |
| Ä&L | Ägypten und Levanten, Wien |
| AnAe | Analecta Aegyptiaca, Copenhagen |
| AnOr | Analecta Orientalia, Rome |
| AOAT | Alter Orient und Altes Testament, Münster |
| APAW | Abhandlungen der Preussischen Akademie der Wissenschaften, Berlin |
| ARA | Annual Review of Anthropology, Palo Alto |
| ARCE | American Research Center in Egypt, San Antonio |
| ArOr | Archiv Orientalní, Prague |
| ARWAW | Abhandlungen der Rheinisch-Westfälischen Akademie der Wissenschaften, Opladen |
| ASAE | Annales du Service des Antiquités de l'Egypte, Cairo |
| ASP | American Society of Papyrologists, Durham |
| AuOr | Aula Orientalis, Barcelona |
| AV | Archäologische Veröffentlichungen, DAIK, Cairo |
| BAÄ | Beiträge zum Alten Ägypten, Basel |
| BÄBA | Beiträge zur ägyptischen Bauforschung und Altertumskunde, Cairo |
| BACE | Bulletin of the Australian Centre for Egyptology, Sydney |
| BAR | British Archaeological Reports, Oxford |
| BASOR | Bulletin of the American Schools of Oriental Research, South Hadley/New Haven |
| BBR | Bulletin for Biblical Research, Forth Worth |
| BD | Book of the Dead (chapter) |
| BdE | Bibliothequé d'Étude, Cairo |
| BDIA | Bulletin of the Detroit Institute of Arts, Detroit |
| BEHE SHP | Bibliothèque de l'École pratique des hautes études. IV section: Sciences Historiques et Philologiques, Paris |
| BIFAO | Bulletin de l'Institut Français d'Archéologie Orientale, Cairo |
| BiAe | Bibliotheca Aegyptiaca, Brussels |
| BiOr | Bibliotheca Orientalis, Leiden |

| | |
|---|---|
| BM | British Museum, London |
| BMMA | Bulletin of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York |
| BMFA | Bulletin of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston |
| BMSAES | British Museum Studies in Ancient Egypt and Sudan, London |
| BOS | Bonner orientalische Studien, Bonn |
| BSAE | British School of Archaeology in Egypt, London |
| BSAK | Beihefte Studien zur Altägyptischen Kultur, Hamburg |
| BSEG | Bulletin de la Sociéte d'Égyptologie, Geneva, Geneva |
| BSFE | Bulletin de la Société Française d'Égyptologie, Paris |
| BSdGE | Bulletin de la Société de Géographie d'Egypte, Cairo |
| BTAVO | Beihefte zum Tübinger Atlas des Vorderen Orients, Tübingen |
| B&W | black and white (photo) |
| CAH | The Cambridge Ancient History, Cambridge |
| CAJ | Cambridge Archaeological Journal, Cambridge |
| can.box | canopic box |
| CdE | Chronique d'Égypte, Bruxelles |
| CENiM | Cahier de l'Égypte Nilotique et Méditerranéenne, Montpellier |
| CG | Catalogue General of Egyptian Antiquities, Cairo Museum |
| CHANE | Culture and History of the Ancient Near East, Leiden |
| CNI | Carsten Niebuhr Institute, Copenhagen |
| CNRS | Centre Nationale de Recherche Scientifique, Paris |
| col(s). | column(s) |
| cont. | continuation |
| CRAIBL | Comptes-Rendus de l'Académie des Inscriptions et Belles Lettres, Paris |
| CRIPEL | Cahier de Recherches de l'Institut de Papyrologie et d'Égyptologie de Lille, Paris/Lille |
| CT | Coffin Texts (recitation) |
| CTN | Coffin Texts notebook(s), Oriental Institute, University of Chicago |
| d. | date |
| DAIK | Deutsches Archäologisches Institut Kairo, Cairo |
| dec. | deceased |
| DE | Discussions in Egyptology, Oxford |
| DFG | Deutschen Forschungsgemeinschaft, Bonn |
| DG | Denkschriften der Gesamtakademie, Kairo |
| DKAW | *Denkschriften der Kaiserlichen Akademie der Wissenschaften,*Wien |
| EA | Egyptian Antiquities (Department of) |
| EA | Egyptian Archaeology, EEF London |
| ECT | Egyptian Coffin Texts = A. de BUCK and A.H. GARDINER, The Egyptian Coffin Texts I-VII (Chicago: The University of Chicago Press, 1936-1961), OIP 34, 49, 64, 67, 73, 81, 87. |
| ed(s). | editor(s) |
| EEF | Egypt Exploration Fund, London (= EES) |
| EEFo | Egyptologists' Electronic Forum, online |
| EES | Egypt Exploration Society, London (= EEF) |
| EM | Egyptological Memoirs, Leiden |
| EME | Études et mémoires d'Égyptologie, Paris |

| | |
|---|---|
| ENiM | Égypte Nilotique et Méditerranéenne, Montpellier |
| EOL | Ex Oriente Lux, Leiden |
| EPHE | École Pratique des Hautes Études, Paris |
| esp. | especially |
| et al. | et alii (and others) |
| EU | Egyptologische Uitgaven, Leiden |
| EVO | Egitto e Vicino Oriente, Pisa |
| ExMem | Excavation Memoirs, Egypt Exploration Society, London |
| ext. | exterior |
| FAT | Forschungen zum Alten Testament, Tübingen |
| f.c. | forthcoming |
| FIFAO | Fouilles de l'Institut Français d'Archéologie Orientale, Cairo |
| fig(s). | figure(s) |
| FIP | First Intermediate Period (also known as "the Period of the Regions") |
| form. | formula (i.e. offering formula or ḥtp-dj-nsw.t formula). |
| former. | formerly |
| fPT | Pyramid Text (recitation), as numbered in R.O. FAULKNER, The Ancient Egyptian Pyramid Texts (Oxford: Clarendon Press, 1998) [* In the figures, viz. f+recitation]. |
| frg(s). | fragment(s) |
| GHP | Golden House Publications, London |
| GM | Göttinger Miszellen, Göttingen |
| GOF | Göttinger Orientforschungen (Reihe: Ägypten), Göttingen |
| HÄB | Hildesheimer Ägyptologische Beiträge, Hildesheim |
| HAT | Handschriften des Altägyptischen Totenbuches, Bonn |
| HdO | Handbuch der Orientalistik, Leiden |
| i.a. | inter alios (among others) |
| ibid. | ibidem (in the same place) |
| id. | idem (the same) |
| IFAO | Institut Français d'Archéologie Orientale, Cairo |
| illeg. | illegible (text) |
| int. | interior |
| inscr. | inscription(s) |
| JAEI | Journal of Ancient Egyptian Interconnections, Arizona |
| JANER | Journal of Ancient Near Eastern Religions, Leiden |
| JAOS | Journal of the American Oriental Society, Michigan |
| JARCE | Journal of the American Research Center in Egypt, San Antonio |
| JEA | Journal of Egyptian Archaeology, London |
| JdE | Journal d'Entrée, Cairo Museum |
| JEgH | Journal of Egyptian History, Leiden |
| JEOL | Jaarbericht van het Vooraziatisch-Egyptisch Genootschap "Ex Oriente Lux," Leiden |
| JES | Journal of Egyptological Studies, Sofia |
| JFA | Journal of Field Archaeology, Boston |
| JNES | Journal of Near Eastern Studies, Chicago |
| JRAS | Journal of the Royal Asiatic Society, London |

| | |
|---|---|
| JRSS | Journal of the Royal Statistical Society, London |
| JSRC | Jerusalem Studies in Religion and Culture, Jerusalem |
| JSSEA | Journal of the Society of the Study of Egyptian Antiquities, Toronto |
| KMT | KMT: A modern journal of ancient Egypt, San Francisco |
| L | Lid (surface) |
| l(l). | line(s) |
| LÄ | W. HELCK and E. OTTO (eds.), Lexikon der Ägyptologie (Wiesbaden: Otto Harrassowitz, 1972-1992), 7 vols. |
| LAPO | Littératures anciennes du Proche-Orient, Paris |
| LD | R. LEPSIUS, Denkmäler aus Aegypten und Aethiopien (Leipzig: J.C. Hinrisch'sche Buchhandlung, 1897-1913), 6 vols. |
| L.E. | Lower Egypt |
| LingAeg | Lingua Aegyptia, Göttingen |
| loc. | location |
| MafS | Mission archéologique française de Saqqarah |
| MÄS | Münchner Ägyptologische Studien, München |
| MDAIK | Mitteilungen des Deutschen Archäologischen Instituts Kairo |
| MDOG | Mitteilungen der Deutschen Orient-Gesellschaft, Berlin-Leipzig |
| M.E. | Middle Egypt |
| MEG | Middle Egypt Group |
| MELCHAT | Moyen égyptien: langage et culture des hiéroglyphes – analyse et traduction, Paris |
| MFA | Museum of Fine Arts, Boston |
| MIFAO | Mémoires de l'Institut Français d'Archéologie Orientale, Cairo |
| MMA | Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York |
| MMAFC | Mémoires de la Mission Archéologique Française au Caire, Paris |
| MMJ | Metropolitan Museum Journal, New York |
| MÖR | Mundöffnungsritual (i.e. Opening of the Mouth ritual) |
| MOS | Mitteilungen aus den orientalischen Sammlung, Berlin |
| MS | Millennium-Studien zu Kultur und Geschichte des ersten Jahrtaudens n. Chr., Berlin |
| MSS | manuscript(s) |
| MVÄG | Mitteilungen der Vorderasiatisch-Ägyptischen Gesellschaft, Leipzig |
| MVEOL | Mededelingen en Verhandelingen Ex Oriente Lux, Leiden |
| N | Name (deceased's) |
| NAWG | Nachrichten der Akademie der Wissenschaften in Göttingen, Göttingen |
| NARCE | Newsletter of the American Research Center in Egypt, San Antonio |
| NB | nota bene |
| NCG AEIN | Ny Carlsberg Glyptothek, Aegypten Sammlingen, Copenhagen |
| NEG | Northern Egypt Group |
| neg(s). | negatives |
| no. | number |
| n.s. | new series |
| NMW | National Museum, Warsaw |
| NWPL | Newcastle Working Papers in Linguistics, Newcastle |
| NyCGP | Ny Carlsberg Glyptotek Publications, Copenhagen |

| | |
|---|---|
| ÖAW | Österreichische Akademie der Wissenschaften, Wien |
| OBO | Orbis Biblicus et Orientalis, Freiburg/Göttingen |
| off. | offering |
| OI | Oriental Institute, University of Chicago, Chicago |
| OIM | Oriental Institute Museum, University of Chicago, Chicago |
| OIP | Oriental Institute Publications, University of Chicago, Chicago |
| OIS | Oriental Institute Seminars, Chicago |
| OLA | Orientalia Lovaniensia Analecta, Leuven |
| OLZ | Orientalistische Literaturzeitung, Münster |
| OMRO | Oudheidkundige Mededelingen uit het Rijksmuseum van Oudheden, Leiden |
| OP | Occasional Publications, Egypt Exploration Society, London |
| opc. | optional(ly) |
| ORA | Orientalische Religionen in der Antike, Tübingen |
| OrAnt | Oriens Antiqvvs |
| OrMonsp | Orientalia Monspeliensia, Montpellier |
| own. | owner |
| Pap. | papyrus |
| Pass | passageway (between sarcophagus chamber and antechamber) |
| p(p). | page(s) |
| pl(s). | plate(s) |
| PdÄ | Probleme der Ägyptologie, Leiden |
| PM | B. PORTER and R.L.B. MOSS, Topographical Bibliography of Ancient Egyptian Hieroglyphic Texts, Reliefs, and Paintings (Oxford: Clarendon Press, 1927-2007), 8 vols. |
| PMAA | Princeton Monographs in Art and Archaeology, Princeton |
| PMLA | Proceedings of the Modern Language Association of America, New York |
| PN | H. RANKE, Die ägyptischen Personennamen (Glückstadt: J.J. Augustin, 1935-1977), 3 vols. |
| prob. | probably |
| PSBA | Proceedings of the Society for Biblical Archaeology, London |
| PT | Pyramid Text (recitation) |
| PULC | Princeton University Library Chronicle, Princeton |
| PUMJ | Pennsylvania University Museum Journal, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia |
| Pyr. | Pyramid Text (line) |
| RAPH | Recherches d'Archéologie, de Philologie et d'Historie, IFAO, Cairo |
| RdE | Revue d'Égyptologie, Cairo/Paris |
| RdT | Recueil de Travaux relatifs à la philologie et à l'archéologie égyptiennes et assyriennes, Cairo |
| reg. | register |
| RHT | Revue d'Histoire des Textes, Paris |
| RHR | Revue de l'Histoire des Religions, Paris |
| SAAS | State Archives of Assyria Studies, Helsinki |
| SACE | School of Archaeology, Classics, and Egyptology, University of Liverpool |
| SAGA | Studien zur Archäologie und Geschichte Altägyptens, Heidelberg |

| | |
|---|---|
| SAK | Studien zur Altägyptischen Kultur, Hamburg |
| SAOC | Studies in Ancient Oriental Civilization, Chicago |
| SAOS | School of Archaeology and Oriental Study, University of Liverpool (now SACE) |
| Sarc | sarcophagus |
| SASAE | Supplément aux annales du Service des Antiquités de l'Égypte, Cairo |
| SAT | Studien zum Altägyptischen Totenbuch, Bonn |
| SBL | Society of Biblical Literature, Atlanta |
| SCA | Supreme Council of Antiquities, Cairo |
| SDAIK | Sonderschrift Deutsches Archäologisches Institut Kairo, Cairo |
| SEG | Southern Egypt Group |
| Sen | Senwosretankh, Lisht |
| SF | Sheikh Farag (This/Naga ed-Der area) |
| SHAW | Schriften der Heidelberger Akademie der Wissenschaften, Philosophisch-Historische Klasse, Heidelberg |
| sic | error |
| SIP | Second Intermediate Period |
| SJOT | Scandinavian Journal of the Old Testament, Abingdon |
| SMMA | Series of Monographs in Mediterranean Archaeology, Sheffield |
| SPAW | Sitzungsberichte der Preussischen Akademie der Wissenschaften, Philosophisch-Historische Klasse, Berlin |
| spec. | specifically |
| sPT | Pyramid Text (recitation), as numbered by the Saqqara mission ('s' stands for 'Saqqara') in J. LECLANT et al., Les textes de la pyramide de Pépy I^er^ (Cairo: IFAO, 2001), MIFAO 118, vol. 1 [* In the figures, viz. s+recitation]. |
| StLit | Studia Liturgica, Würzburg |
| Suppl. | Supplement |
| TAVO | Tübinger Atlas des Vorderen Orients, Tübingen |
| temp | temporary (see LESKO, Index of the Spells on Egyptian Middle Kingdom Coffins, p. 3 and the explanatory notes for the chapter figures below) |
| TMO | Travaux de la Maison de l'Orient, Lyon |
| TSR | Toronto Studies in Religion, Toronto |
| TTS | Theban Tomb Series, London |
| UCLA | University California Los Angeles |
| U.E. | Upper Egypt |
| UGAÄ | Untersuchungen zur Geschichte und Altertumskunde Ägyptens, Leipzig/Berlin |
| uniden. | unidentified |
| UPM | University of Pennsylvania Museum of Archeology and Anthropology |
| USE | Uppsala Studies in Egyptology, Uppsala |
| usurp(s). | usurper(s) |
| var. | variant |
| VDWR | Verlag der Weltreligionen, Frankfurt am Main |
| vol. | volume |

| | |
|---|---|
| Wb. | A. ERMAN and H. GRAPOW (eds.), Das Wörterbuch der ägyptischen Sprache; zur Geschichte eines grossen wissenschaftlichen Unternehmens der Akademie (Berlin: Akademie-Verlag, 1953), Deutschen Akademie des Wissenschaften zu Berlin*, Vorträge und Schriften* 51. |
| Wdo | Die Welt des Orient, Göttingen/Wupoertal |
| WZKM | Wiener Zeitschrift für die Kunde des Morgenlandes, Wien |
| WZKS | Wiener Zeitschrift für die Kunde Südasiens, Wien |
| WVDOG | Wissenschaftliche Veröffentlichung der Deutschen Orient-Gesellschaft, Berlin |
| x | unknown |
| YES | Yale Egyptological Studies, Yale |
| ZÄS | Zeitschrift für Ägyptische Sprache, Leipzig/Berlin |
| ZBA | Zaberns Bildbände zur Archäologie, Mainz am Rhein |
| ZDMG | Zeitschrift der Deutschen Morgenländischen Gesellschaft, Leipzig/Wiesbaden |
| ZNTW | Zeitschrift für die Neutestamentliche Wissenschaft, Berlin |

Abbreviations for manuscripts, photos and personal files

ALLEN, Computer Spreadsheet
Personal computer database spreadsheet (generously provided by James P. Allen)

JÜRGENS, Coffin Database
Personal computer database software (shared by Peter Jürgens online)

CTN
Coffin Texts Notebook(s), Oriental Institute Archives, University of Chicago

GARDINER MSS
A.H. GARDINER, Notebooks, notes, card indexes of the Pyramid Texts and Late Egyptian, copies of inscriptions, corpus of transcribed hieratic ostraca and papyri, photographs, drawings, correspondence, copies of his own publications, and portraits (Oxford: Bequeathed to the Griffith Institute by Sir A. H. Gardiner, ca. 1900-1063).

GARSTANG Photos
J. Garstang's collection: School of Archaeology and Oriental Studies (University of Liverpool), Liverpool (data partially collected from S.E. Orel's dissertation (SAOS negs. therein), see bibliography).

GUNN MSS
B.G. GUNN, Notebooks, notes, articles (some unpublished), lecture notes, photographs, correspondence, squeezes, drawings, tracings, and casts (Oxford: bequeathed by B. G. Gunn to the Griffith Institute, ca. 1920-1950).

OIM Photos
Oriental Institute Museum, Photos Archives

MFA Photos
Museum of Fine Arts, Photo Archives

Abbreviation system for textual position

For the system of location and distribution of texts listed in this work, see J. LECLANT, C. BERGER-EL NAGGAR, and I. PIERRE-CROISIAU, Les textes de la pyramide de Pépy 1er, MIFAO 118/1-2, pp. 27-199; which revises T.G.H. ALLEN, Occurrences of Pyramid Texts with Cross Indexes, SAOC 27, pp. 48-99.

| Pyramid distribution | |
|---|---|
| A | antechamber |
| C | corridor leading north from the antechamber |
| D | descending passage |
| g | gable |
| hor | horizontal band |
| S | sarcophagus chamber |
| Sarc | sarcophagus |
| Ser | passageway to serdab from A |
| V | vestibule |

| Coffin distribution | |
|---|---|
| B | back-side |
| BO | bottom |
| F | foot-side |
| FR | front-side |
| H | head-side |
| L | lid |

| Further locative abbreviations | |
|---|---|
| beg | beginning section |
| col(s). | column(s) [by numeral order] |
| cont. | continuation |
| end | ending section |
| ext | exterior |
| frg(s). | fragment(s) |
| int. | interior |
| l(l). | line(s) [by letter order] |
| leg. | legend |
| med. | middle section |
| reg. | register |
| / | two walls/sides marker or corresponding walls (e.g. FR/B or FR-side/E-wall) |

| | |
|---|---|
| E | east wall |
| N | north wall |
| S | south wall |
| W | west wall |
| e | eastern section |
| n | northern section |
| s | southern section |
| w | western section |

Abbreviation system for tomb and coffin nomenclature

For the system of location and distribution of texts attested in coffins listed in this work, see DE BUCK, The Egyptian Coffin Texts I, p. xxvii. The letters used in the designations stand for provenience in the first column and current location in the second one. When a source is found and remains in situ, then the same abbreviation is used for both provenience and current location (e.g. Kh1Kh).

* With sources from Lisht, we follow the system of J.P. ALLEN, The Egyptian Coffin Texts VIII: Middle Kingdom Copies of Pyramid Texts (Chicago: The Oriental Institute – University of Chicago, 2006), OIP 132, with the initial letter "L" indicating the procedence from Lisht and the second column referring in abbreviated form to the name of the owner (e.g. L-MH1A).

For the royal pyramids, the monuments are abbreviated by the first letter (and with number referring to the position order) of the owner (e.g. AII).

| Provenience | | Current location | |
|---|---|---|---|
| W | king Unas | Ba | Basel, private collection |
| T | king Teti | Be | Berlin, Ägyptisches Museum |
| P | king Pepi I | BO | Boston, Museum of Fine Arts |
| B | queen Behenu | Br | Brussels, Musées Royaux d'Art et d'Histoire |
| M | king Merenre | C | Cairo, Egyptian Museum |
| N | king Pepi II | Ca | Cambridge, Ethnological Museum |
| A | Aswan | Ch | Chicago, Oriental Institute Museum |
| AI | queen Ankhesenpepi I | Chass | Chassinat, coffin at publication (see bibliography) |
| AII | queen Ankhesenpepi II | | |
| AIII | queen Ankhesenpepi III | Cop | Copenhagen, Ny Carlsberg Glyptotek |
| Ab | Abusir | L | London, Britism Museum |
| Aby | Abydos | Le | Leipzig, Ägyptische Museum Universität Leipzig |
| B | Bersheh | | |
| Ba | Balat | Mos | Moscow, Pushkin Museum |
| BH | Beni Hasan | NY | New York, Metropolitan Museum of Art |
| D | Dendera | Ox | Oxford, Ashmolean Museum |
| Da | Dahshur | P | Paris, Musée du Louvre |
| E | Elephantina | Parma | Parma, Museo Archeologigo Nazionale |
| G | Gebelein | Ph | Philadelphia, University Museum |
| Haw | Hawara | T | Turin, Museo Egizio di Torino |
| Ha | Harageh | Tü | Tübingen, Tübingen Universität Sammlung |
| Hu | Hu (Diopolis Parva) | W | Würzburg, Martin von Wagner Museum |
| Ib | King Ibi | War | Warsaw, Muzeum Narodowe w Warszawie |
| IpII | Queen Iput II | X | unknown current location |
| IpIII | Queen Iput III | Y | Yale University, Art Gallery |
| K | Qau el-Kebir | | |

| | |
|---|---|
| Kh | Kom el-Hisn |
| L(i) | Lisht |
| M | Meir |
| Me | Mendes |
| NeD | Naga ed-Der |
| Nt | queen Neith (Neith, queen) |
| Q | Al-Qatta |
| R | Riqqa |
| Ri | Riffeh |
| S | Asyut |
| Sed | Sedment |
| Sen | Senwosretankh |
| Sq | Saqqara |
| T | Thebes |
| Tod | El-Tod |
| TT | Theban Tomb |
| Wedj | queen Wedjebteni |
| Y | unknown provenance |

EXPLANATORY NOTES FOR CHAPTER FIGURES

In the figures with Pyramid Texts assemblages, the location of texts on the outer side of the source (e.g. coffin) is noted with the label "exterior." No particular reference means that the texts appear on the inner side. The offering lists (off.list) and offering formulae (off.formula) affecting the order or interpolating in the series of mortuary texts have been included in the figures.

| Sign | Meaning |
|---|---|
| italics font | framing of Pyr. or CT line(s) within the text of another recitation |
| letter | band or line [i.e. German waagerecht for horizontal elements] |
| number | column |
| – | continuation in a different side/wall |
| ~ | similar to |
| [recitation] | reconstruction in illegible section or area with traces of a text |
| […] | damaged or destroyed (e.g. title in PT214 in L-A1: fig. 59, n. 786) |
| CTtemp no. | Numbers used by T.G. ALLEN, Occurrences, p. 122, n. 4, and 133; and L. LESKO, Index of the Spells, passim, for texts that were not easily identifiable. For instance, CTtemp 325 in LESKO, Index of the Spells, p. 102 is a common text in the FR-side of some sources from Lisht and Thebes in which Re gives the deceased "the beautiful horizon" (e.g. the model coffin of Teti X1L: see GRAJETZSKI, BMSAES 5 (2006), p. 4, section b); another instance is CTtemp 189 in T7C FR, col. 5 (LACAU, Sarcophages antérieurs au Nouvel Empire I, p. 80, col. 5) and T7C B, col. 1 (see LACAU, Sarcophages antérieurs au Nouvel Empire I, p. 81, col. 1).For this system, see GESTERMANN, Die Überlieferung ausgewählter Texte, p. 9, n. 26, where the author explains that Leonard Lesko was the designer of the new system with CTtemp labels, which intended to include those texts that were not included in the Coffin Texts volumes by A. de Buck. See further references also in J.P. ALLEN, "The funerary texts of king Wakhare Akhtoy," p. 1, n. 6. |